CALL TO SUSPEND DUGGAN

Crime scene: Ferry Lane, Tottenham, where Mark Duggan (below) was shot dead in August

SHOOTING OFFICERS

TRADE unionists have renewed calls for the police officers involved in the shooting of Mark Duggan in August to be suspended.

Haringey TUC originally made the call in the immediate aftermath of Mr Duggan's death in Tottenham Hale and before the Tottenham riot on August 6.

Keith Flett, secretary of Haringey TUC, said: "We feel it is important that this issue gets a public airing. The facts of the matter remain to be determined but there are clearly very significant concerns [over the case]."

"He can no longer answer on the matter but it is surely prudent now for the officers concerned to be suspended for their own good and in the public interest."

The Metropolitan Police has confirmed that an officer involved has been withdrawn from frontline duties. A spokeswoman told The Advertiser: "In accordance with post-incident procedures, the CO19 officer involved [in the shooting of Mr Duggan] is not currently performing an operational role."

The call from the TUC came in the wake of a report in The Guardian newspaper on Saturday that claimed Mr Duggan had not been armed with a gun when he was shot dead.

Report claims police's victim was not armed

The Met has already complained about the article to the Press Complaints Commission.

A statement said the headline was "inaccurate and misleading based on what is known at this time and despite making this point in the strongest terms to the newspaper, it was not amended". It continued: "The article, but particularly its headline, stated as fact issues that are subject to an ongoing investigation by the Independent Police Complaints Commission, who have themselves issued a statement expressing similar concerns. We would reiterate that it is premature for anyone to draw conclusions prior to completion of the IPCC's investigation."

The IPCC has described The Guardian article as "misleading, speculative and wholly irresponsible". "The IPCC investigation into the death of Mark Duggan is examining a range of issues," said an IPCC statement.

"This is a complex investigation that involves gathering information including witness statements, pathology, forensics and ballistics analysis and we have stated to the coroner that it will be completed within four to six months. One of the key elements we will seek to establish is the sequence of events concerning the non-police-issue firearm found at the scene. That has not been established yet, contrary to what has been written in The Guardian."

"We urge people not to rush to judgment until our investigation is complete and they have the opportunity to see and hear the full evidence themselves."

Tottenham MP David Lammy has called for calm while the investigation is carried out.

"There are still plenty of unanswered questions concerning Mark Duggan's death," he said. "These latest developments are seriously disturbing. This is the greatest test of the IPCC since its creation."

"The investigation remains open and it is in the interests of the Tottenham community and the rest of the country that it is allowed to continue its work without further distraction or violence."

Gun probe under way

AN INVESTIGATION has been launched to determine whether a gun found at the scene of Mark Duggan's fatal shooting had been used in an earlier offence.

The Independent Police Complaints Commission will be looking into the steps taken by Met Police officers during an investigation in late July into an alleged assault involving a firearm.

Tests have suggested that the non-police-issue firearm which was found at the scene of Mr Duggan's death on August 4 may have been the same one which had been used in the alleged assault.

The Met referred the matter to the IPCC last Monday and the commission has decided to undertake an independent investigation.

Sarah Green, IPCC commissioner, said: "Our investigation will consider whether all investigative lines were promptly identified and acted upon by officers from the Metropolitan Police Service and to what extent, if any, the conduct of this investigation may have impacted on the supply of the firearm found at the scene of the shooting of Mark Duggan."

"We have informed Mr Duggan's family of the situation and IPCC family liaison managers continue to be on hand to support Mr Duggan's family while investigations continue."

An individual has been charged in connection with the alleged offences in July.

Dame Kelly salutes youngsters' success

Going for gold: Octagon youngsters with Olympic athletics legend Dame Kelly Holmes

A GROUP of students from Haringey came face-to-face with a sporting legend last week.

The young people from Octagon, a pupil referral unit, were congratulated by Dame Kelly Holmes after successfully completing the Get On Track project run by the double Olympic gold medallists' charity the DKH Legacy Trust.

The project aims to help young people develop the skills, discipline, self-belief and determination to get back into mainstream education or employment.

Dame Kelly said: "Many of these young people have faced some tough times. Quite honestly, most people have no idea about what some young people have to deal with at an early age.

"I'm chuffed that my charity, along with Haringey Council and UBS, has made it possible for these young people to have a chance of getting their lives on track and now have real hope for a better future."

During the scheme the youngsters worked with athlete mentors to help improve issues including time-keeping and relationship building, as well as getting involved in community projects.

Lorna Reith, Haringey Council's cabinet member for children, said: "The programme has been carefully designed to keep the kids interested at all times and tangibly shows - through the mentors - how they too can deal with difficulties in their lives and overcome the odds to succeed."

The young people were supported by Commonwealth gold medallists Adam Whitehead (swimming) and Courtney Fry (boxing), as well as British boxing champion Hannah Beharry.

Schools urged to sign up for 2012 tickets network

LESS than half of Haringey's schools have applied for free tickets to next year's Olympic Games.

Some 125,000 tickets are up for grabs across the capital through the London 2012 Ticketshare scheme - and the Mayor of London, Boris Johnson, has called on all schools to become members of the London 2012 Get Set network to ensure pupils are eligible for free tickets.

"Haringey's schoolkids have a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to get hold of the hottest tickets in town and experience the greatest sporting event on the planet," said Mr Johnson.

"But to get as many kids into the Games as possible, we need every school in Haringey to join up and, with just a month to go, I urge schoolkids, teachers and parents to make sure their school doesn't miss out."

About 23,000 free tickets have been allocated for events at Olympic Park venues, including athletics, swimming and cycling. About 18,500 are available for events at other London venues including beach volleyball at Horseguards Parade and archery at Lord's Cricket Ground.

A further 18,000 London schoolchildren will get the chance to visit Wembley Stadium to watch Olympic football and more than 5,500 will be able to go to sports at venues on the outskirts of the capital, including canoe slalom and sprint, rowing and mountain biking. The remaining 60,000 tickets will give youngsters access to the 2012 Paralympic Games athletics events.

There are enough free tickets for one in eight of London's 10 to 18-year-old schoolchildren. To date, only 58 per cent of London schools eligible have applied to join the Get Set network. Applications close on December 16.

Charity supporting women lands award for top work

A HARINGEY charity has won one of The Co-operative's inaugural south east community awards.

JAN Trust was given the Community Achievement Of The Year accolade for its work helping women from disadvantaged, ethnic minority backgrounds to find empowerment and independence through education and training.

Sajda Mughal, from the trust, in Bedford Road, Wood Green, said: "Being recognised by The Co-operative for our work is simply fantastic. Our education programmes cover everything from fashion and design, to financial literacy and debt management, to IT and internet usage.

"We aim to equip women with the tools to boost self-confidence and give them a platform to enhance their skills for employment.

"Additionally, we offer advice to our members on pertinent community issues such as domestic violence, forced marriages, honour killings and human rights. We are committed to bringing these women out of their state of dependence into one of independence and freedom."

The awards ceremony took place at London Zoo's Prince Albert suite and celebrated individuals, community groups and projects, who can apply for a grant from £100 to £2,000 through The Co-operative's Community Fund.

Supporting women: Houda Cheikh, Adrienne Lowe, Sajda Mughal and Mehwish Jabin

Application forms are available online at www.co-operative.coop/communityfund or by phoning 01618 275 879. Awards are allocated by local Co-operative members' committees, based on a set of values and principles such as social responsibility and caring for others.

Residents invited to have a say in Tottenham's future

HARINGEY Council has launched a consultation into the future of Tottenham.

A programme of activities is being planned to keep the High Road buzzing in the run-up to Christmas, and planning work is under way for sites damaged or destroyed in the riots on the High Road.

Now people are being invited to help shape the longer-term strategy for transforming Tottenham.

Input from local people since the riots has highlighted five key priorities:

- ☐ Safe, secure and confident communities
- ☐ Thriving businesses and more jobs
- ☐ High-quality housing
- ☐ Excellent public space and transport
- ☐ More investment in Tottenham

The consultation will explore how best to build on these priorities and create a successful and vibrant Tottenham where people are proud to live and work.

Alan Strickland, cabinet member for economic development and social inclusion, said: "We have spoken with hundreds of residents and traders since the riots and we are eager to hear from more as we draw up long-term plans for the transformation of Tottenham.

A questionnaire is available online and will be supported by road shows, exhibitions and public meetings.

The first of two meetings will take place from 6.30pm to 8.30pm on Monday November 28 in Moselle Room, Tottenham Town Hall, Town Hall Approach Road, in South Tottenham.

The second is at the same time the following night at the Neighbourhood Resource Centre, 177 Park Lane, Tottenham.

The consultation runs until January 6 and the findings will help shape a regeneration strategy to be drawn up in the new year.

Rushed off her feet: Samalie Lutalo was chief executive of the Red Cross for a day

Samalie tastes life in the Red hot seat

A RED Cross worker from Tottenham has been given the chance to take control of the organisation for the day.

Samalie Lutalo was one of 13 young volunteers chosen to take part in the takeover event.

The Red Cross's senior management team stepped down from their top positions to make room for the 13 volunteers aged between 16 and 25 from across the UK to take over their roles.

Samalie was given the opportunity to stand in for chief executive Sir Nick Young.

The 22-year-old said: "I was nervous about being the chief executive but it was a really fun and interesting day. Leading the whole group was a bit scary but it was a real confidence boost to know I could do it well, so I'll be aiming high in the future."

Sir Nick said: "This was a wonderful opportunity for young people to see how decisions are made at the top and, more importantly, for us to benefit from the fresh perspectives and ideas that they will bring."

About 6,400 young people support the Red Cross as emergency response volunteers, working in charity shops, organising fundraising challenges, helping young refugees or as peer educators teaching first aid.

To find out about the range of opportunities for young people to volunteer, visit www.redcross.org.uk

SPURS CONTINUE THEIR FINE RUN

By Dominique Stafford

A FIRST-HALF double from Emmanuel Adebayor was enough for Tottenham Hotspur to beat Aston Villa 2-0 at White Hart Lane on Monday night and climb up into third place in the Premier League table.

The on-loan striker had gone six matches without a goal, but he finally ended his drought on 14 minutes with an acrobatic overhead kick and he doubled the advantage with a simple tap-in five minutes before the interval following a mix-up between Shay Given and James Collins.

"I'm very happy to have got the two goals," he said. "It was a tough moment for me, but at the end of the day the most important thing is for the team to win. We play as a team, we defend as a team and we attack as a team."

"As a striker you've got to miss some to score some."

In truth Tottenham created more than enough chances to have won far more comfortably as they dominated from start to finish against a hugely disappointing Villa side who failed to seriously test home keeper Brad Friedel at any stage during the 90 minutes.

And manager Harry Redknapp, making his return to the dugout following minor heart surgery, was delighted with the performance of his team.

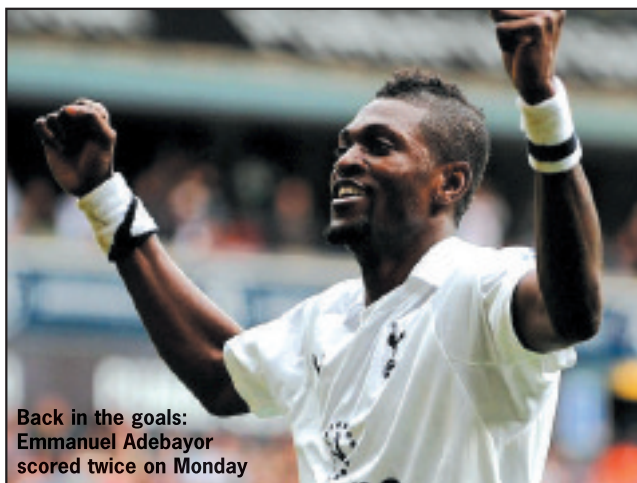

"We played some great stuff," he said. "We had one or two clear-cut chances before we scored the first goal, then scored the second and had three or four good opportunities in the second half."

"I always felt that we were in control. I was pleased with the whole team. I thought we were solid from back to front, kept possession and moved the ball well."

"Villa are a decent team, but we restricted them to very few opportunities. It was a good all-round team performance. I love watching us play and I thought we were great."

The win was Spurs' eighth in their past nine league matches, and Redknapp insists that they can mount a genuine title challenge if they maintain their excellent current form.

"The title is a possibility," the manager added. "It's not impossible for anyone. If you keep winning matches and believe in yourself you'll do it."

"Last season Manchester United won it because everyone fell over. If we keep up the form we're in at the moment we'll win the league, but that will be very hard."

Borough facing tough Vase test against Royston

A DAUNTING clash against in-form Royston Town awaits Haringey Borough in the third round of the FA Vase after they held on for a 3-2 win at Tring Athletic in the second round of the competition on Saturday.

Borough had looked set for a comfortable triumph at their Spartan Premier Division rivals after completely dominating the first half – taking a 14th-minute lead through Roland Namquita and then opening up a seemingly decisive advantage as Richard Worrell and Nick Nicou struck in quick succession shortly before the interval.

But the match was dramatically transformed after the restart as Graham Hall pulled a goal back from the spot on 51 minutes, and Vinnie Iannone further increased Borough's nerves by scoring a second for Tring soon after.

Both teams were then reduced to ten men, but the visitors managed to hold firm to book their place in Monday's draw – where they were handed a home tie against runaway Spartan Premier Division leaders Royston.

Meanwhile, Borough temporarily climbed up into fourth place in the table by recording an impressive 4-0 win over Oxhey Jets last Tuesday.

All four goals came from corners, with Darrell Cox (two) and Dewayne Clarke netting with headers after Worrell had smashed home the opener.

Haringey Borough face a trip to Biggleswade United on Saturday (3pm).
